As my husband and I walked into church a few weeks ago, we were instantly aware of beautiful music. I wondered why a CD would be playing at mass and when James Taylor started recording Christian music. To our surprise, it wasn't a CD at all, but the incredible voice and music of Paul Koleske.

The next night, Paul held a concert and motivational gathering targeted to the teens of our congregation, but open to all. My husband and I enthusiastically attended. Again, we were inspired by his beautiful music, but also moved by his personal story. Paul's journey to God and the Catholic church was relevant to the young audience, and his insightful questions made everyone think about their own journeys.

It was a wonderful night, and we look forward to seeing him again. The message in his songs continues to linger in our hearts!

Sincerely,
